

Cyber Workshops & Tabletop Exercises

Prepare for Potential Cybersecurity Events

Cyber incidents continue to grow in frequency, impact and complexity, affecting FINRA member firms of all sizes. Preparing for these events through realistic, structured exercises helps firms strengthen coordination, clarify roles and identify gaps—before a real-world incident occurs.

With that in mind, FINRA is hosting a series of Cyber Workshops and Tabletop Exercises (TTXs) designed to help FINRA member firms strengthen their cyber readiness, reinforce internal controls, and better understand expectations around safeguarding customer data and maintaining operational resilience. Each one simulates a real-world incident or threat and provides practical information for developing a response.

These events are designed not just to meet today's regulatory expectations, but to position firms to adapt to tomorrow's risks with the evolving risk landscapes.

Benefits for FINRA Member Firms:

- Gain greater awareness of current and emerging cyber threats
- Enhance vulnerability assessment skills, response protocols, and key stakeholder alignment across multiple business functions
- Develop a clear understanding of regulatory expectations related to safeguarding customer information, implementing incident response plans, and more
- Exchange ideas with peers and discover shared challenges and effective practices
- Receive actionable insights and observations from FINRA cybersecurity experts

Developed For:

- Chief Compliance Officers and Firm Leadership
- Compliance and Cyber/IT Personnel
- Business Line Leadership
- Legal, Human Resources and Communications Staff
- Risk and Audit Professionals
